

Event Report – Dr Crismita Dmello

The ACTREC Alumni Association hosted its 26th event on 21st November 2023 at the KS Auditorium. The session featured Dr. Crismita Dmello, an alumnus and Research Assistant Professor at Northwestern University, Chicago, USA, who delivered a talk on "Identification and targeting of glioma intrinsic factors that determine response to chemotherapies and immunotherapies". The event saw an attendance of about 60 participants, including several Ph.D. scholars, post doc fellows, project staff and PIs.

Dr. Pratik Chandrani, Dr Nazia Chaudhary and Dr Mahalakhmi Ram of AAA welcomed the audience and emphasized the importance of staying connected with one's alma mater. The talk began at 04:00 PM and included a lively Q&A session, with active participation from the principal investigators present. Dr. Dmello was presented with a certificate of appreciation for his contribution to the event.